

To whom it may concern,

I urge you in the strongest terms not to alter the control that providers have over traffic on the internet. This is not in the best interest of the people and in turn not in the best interest of the government that serves the people. This will further generate disparities in opportunity for Americans thereby exacerbating current class tension. America is a nation founded on the principle of equal opportunity.

Thank you.